YOU SAVE MOST at SEARS

The low prices in this catalog are for mail orders only. Our retail store prices are usually higher because of transportation charges and other additional costs for extra services necessary to retail store methods of selling.

Sears bring you the advantages of lower price, obtained by volume buying at the quarries and contracts with large, well equipped monument plants nearby. We pass all these savings on to you, yet you get the finest stones that can be quarried and are assured of expert workmanship. The carving and lettering are more than expert—they are highly artistic. Sears memorials are worthy of expressing the deepest sentiment. Compare them only to the highest quality memorials you can buy, whatever price you pay.

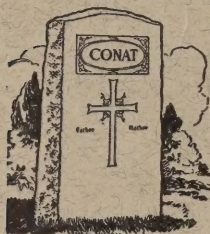

Terms of Shipment

Our terms are cash in advance on all monument work. Because of our low prices and narrow margin of profit, we cannot sell on any other terms. Sears guarantee protects you positively.

Packing and Shipping

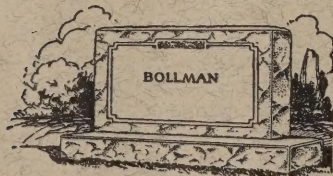

The different parts of the monument you buy will be strongly boxed or crated before leaving our shops. We guarantee every shipment against damage in transit and to be perfect in every way when it reaches you. If any part should be damaged in transit, we will replace it without cost to you. All that we ask is that the railroad agent's attention be called to any damage that might occur and a written statement of the condition of the shipment when received be secured from him on the freight bill before the freight charges are paid. Shipping Weights are estimated and are not guaranteed.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING PRICES. Should the Federal Government or any State find it necessary to increase by taxes or otherwise the cost or selling price of any of the merchandise described in this catalog, we reserve the right to add any such taxes or other increases of cost or selling price to the price of the merchandise as shown in this catalog.

Your records will show that I purchased from you for cash this summer, memorials to the amount of nearly $200.00. The material and workmanship are very good indeed. I saved about $120.00.

R. A. Wilson,
Kingsley, Mich.

The monument I ordered of you arrived in fine shape, well crated, lettering was exact and well done. By comparing size and quality, I figure I have saved at least one-third.

Setting it up was easy by following your instructions and by so doing I am positive it will stand firm and solid for all time.

G. W. Bollman,
Shelby, Ohio

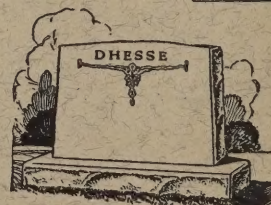

I ordered two small memorials last September and have received them and had them set up. Am very well pleased with them and would recommend them to others who have economy in mind.

Mrs. Louis Frey,
Greensburg, Ind.

I received the cemetery monument in time to have it erected before Decoration Day. I am quite pleased with it, and it is conceded by several to be one of the most beautiful monuments in that cemetery.

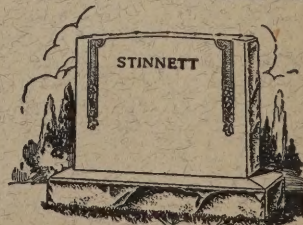

Thanking you for your prompt delivery.

Mrs. L. E. Talisferro,
Willow Grove, Pa.

I purchased a marker from you last August and I am very much pleased with it. I sent in my order and in less than a month my marker was in place at my husband's grave and at a saving of about $25.00 less than I would have had to pay at the dealers here.

Mrs. A. H. Custin,
Crown Point, Ind.

Within four weeks after my order was sent, I received the monuments in best of condition. Have already erected them. Am very much pleased with your prompt shipment and find the monuments very satisfactory.

According to rates of dealers here, I have saved at least fifty dollars and at same time have obtained the same grade of marble. I shall be glad to recommend your company to others.

NEW ENGLAND'S FINEST QUARRIES COMES STONE for SEARS FAMOUS MARBLE and GRANITE MEMORIALS

THESE are hundreds of stone quarries in the United States producing vast quantities of granite, marble, slate and stone of many varieties for building, roofing, paving and other purposes. Stones from certain regions of limited area, however, have proved to be so peculiarly adapted for memorials because of their beauty, durability and freedom from flaw or stain, that they have come to be accepted as standard and are used for more than ninety per cent of the high grade monuments in the cemeteries in this country.

These exceptionally high grade stones for memorial purposes are VERMONT MARBLE from quarries near Rutland, Vt., CERTIFICATE, a gray granite produced in the New England states, AMERICAN RED GRANITE, a beautiful stone from a famous red granite quarry.

The cemetery monuments and markers described in this catalog are carved from one or another of these best of all stones for the purpose. We describe them more fully below.

Stone that Lasts Forever—Eternally Beautiful

Pure Vermont Marble

VERMONT marble is a hard compact calcareous stone, famous for its beauty and fineness of texture and for taking a beautiful polish. It is found in two colors, called WHITE CLOUDED Marble and dark vein BLUE Marble. For the first time, we now offer our marble memorials at the same price for either color.

The dark vein BLUE Marble, as its name implies, shows a beautiful rich dark blue veining on a body that varies from a medium gray to a deep dark blue and there is no regularity in the shading or veining.

Because of its fineness of texture and the strong contrast between polished and cut surfaces, lettering and ornamentation will show up better on this marble than on any other kind. We strongly recommend our dark vein blue marble for all monuments having ornamental tracings, as the delicate designs stand out much more clearly than on white marble.

White Clouded Rutland Marble is a handsome stone of exceedingly fine grained texture. It is practically pure white, but has small veins of color running through it at random, and in order not to misrepresent it, we call it "White Clouded."

It is more durable than the famous imported white Carrara marble of Italy and will last longer when exposed to the weather. We recommend the white clouded marble especially for carved designs or for any monument intended for a child or young lady.

Hundreds of cemetery monuments made from Vermont Marble, such as we sell, that were erected over one hundred years ago, are standing today with their inscriptions clear and legible.

Certificate Gray Granite

SO perfectly satisfactory are NEW ENGLAND GRANITES for monumental work, that probably eighty to ninety per cent of all the gray granite monuments erected in our cemeteries are from these quarries.

Policy on Lettering

OUR policy regarding lettering of inscriptions on memorials means large savings on every stone. We have been very particular in selecting the most appropriate design of lettering for each individual stone.

We include in the price of each stone ANY lettering, provided no more than the number of characters shown on illustration is ordered. Each additional date, letter and dash is charged for as follows:

VERMONT MARBLE—18c each; CERTIFICATE GRAY GRANITE—45c each; AMERICAN RED GRANITE—45c each.

See page 29 for further information and prices regarding verse lettering.

CERTIFICATE GRAY GRANITE is an exceedingly hard stone, with a beautiful, fine grained, crystalline texture. It is found in two shades, dark and light, the darker shade being due to the presence of a greater proportion of small black crystals. It will take a beautiful mirror polish, so deep and transparent as to resemble finely polished plate glass in its smoothness. Dark GRANITE is most suitable for polished work, as the polishing brings out the full deep rich color and grain, and we usually recommend it for all monuments or parts of monuments having polished surfaces.

GRANITE can be hammered to a beautiful smooth surface. The hammered finish is smooth but not polished. It gives a soft, quiet effect that is greatly admired, and brings out carving in beautiful relief. The lighter color produces the more pleasing effect on hammered surfaces, and as light GRANITE hammers out almost white, it is usually preferred to the dark for this purpose. It is also used for rock faced work, as it presents a more striking appearance. Unless otherwise directed, we use the light GRANITE for hammered or rock faced monuments.

American Red Granite

THIS is a granite of rich beauty, and the contrast it presents when placed among other memorials makes it very conspicuous and pleasing in appearance. It is as hard and enduring as CERTIFICATE GRAY GRANITE, being practically everlasting, and is composed of rather large crystals of red, pink and dark shades, taking a very beautiful polish.

The polished surfaces are a deep glowing red, full of life and beauty, while the hammered surfaces are a delicate tinge of pink much lighter than the polished or rock faced surfaces. The lettering stands out well regardless of whether it is raised, traced or sunk, and is easily read at a considerable distance.

Dignity and Grace*

The MONOLITH

STRONGLY reminiscent of ancient English and Colonial burial plots, the MONOLITH design tells the story simply and with utmost impressiveness. Some designs offend because of over-emphasized attempts at decoration—still other designs are equally unattractive because of a severity of plainness. The MONOLITH strikes a happy medium—at once assuring a striking simplicity of design, yet commemorating perfectly the tomb it graces.

Unusual, in that its great, rugged strength is emphasized by the absence of any base stone, this design stands apart among the memorials of any cemetery. Its remarkable beauty is striking and sincere.

Front surface of main block is hammered, with face decorations deeply sandblasted, as illustration shows. The Cross, for centuries Christianity's symbol of faith and hope, adds impressive dignity. The decorative name panel provides balance and harmony—without detracting from the name's prominence and importance. The individual name inscriptions eliminate any added expense for separate markers. Back surface is in natural rough finish—a treatment that embellishes the appearance of strength and permanence.

A design which cannot receive comparable treatment in any other stone, the MONOLITH is a true design executed by the trade's finest craftsmen.

Dignity and Strength . . .
An Unusual Treatment of

The CALVARY

THE Cross, gracefully resting atop the main block vividly illustrates the religious and historical significance of this symbol. This decoration, so finely executed in the CALVARY design, symbolizes the faith of all Christian peoples, regardless of sect or creed. Both significant and appropriate, this variation of the customary cross becomes one of the finest of all memorials.

Dark Granite provides a perfect medium for the CALVARY design, although it is also adaptable for reproduction in American Red Granite, as described below.

The glass-like polished face of main block and cross are accentuated by the sturdy frame-work of rough-hewn granite. Delicate bevelled edges on both base and main block, provide perfect separations—hammered surface from natural finish in the base and polished surface from rough finish in the main block. Back of main block is rough-hewn surface.

The illustration describes, better than words, the beauty and worthiness of this memorial. Ample name panel on the hammered surface has deep, sandblasted lettering. Decorative carving below the Cross adds balance and unquestioned harmony between upper and lower parts of main block.

A worthy memorial for any family plot—or for any individual grave.

Brilliant, Polished Surfaces that Contrast Strikingly with Natural Finish

The ROSEMOUNT

THE famous St. Cloud quarrying district of Minnesota contributes one of the finest memorial mediums in the entire world—beautiful, variegated granite, famous throughout the western world for its brilliant, polished beauty. The amazing contrasts of color, texture and finish that are possible in this stone leave it without a rival among granite varieties. Practically all colors of the rainbow, with reds and greens predominating, blend to create endless patterns of live, moving color.

No memorial material could better be adapted to this particular ROSEMOUNT design than this variegated granite. As shown above, brilliant, mirror-like polished surfaces contrast strikingly with the rough-hewn finishes. Complicated design is unnecessary. The motif chosen by our artists embodies simplicity, yet it breathes fullness and richness rarely found where such a minimum of carving is employed.

The oval curved top is of hammered finish while the two sides and back of the main block are rough-hewn. Base has rough-hewn sides with upper surfaces hammered. Outline lettering with center portion hammered is particularly attractive. Simple, geometric design blends perfectly with the shape and style of the entire memorial.

Another Triumph for Certificate Gray Granite
A Memorial That Defies Time Itself

The PLYMOUTH

WHEREVER beautiful memorials are to be found, a predominance of wide, tablet monuments is at once noted. These wide, horizontal memorials give the impression of unusual stability and strength. The wall-like protection which a memorial of this type seems to convey is emphasized in the PLYMOUTH—the extra-heavy and deep base supporting the quiet yet massive main block creates perfect memorial significance.

Rugged strength is apparent in every line of the PLYMOUTH. Only the front of the main block and the top surface of the base have hammered finishes—the sides of the base and sides, back and top of the main block have the natural, rough-hewn finish, so popular in modern memorial design.

Roman incised lettering is cut deeply into the stone throwing each letter into brilliant relief as light from varying angles falls on the stone. Our artists avoided excessive ornamentation, limiting their efforts to the simple, harmonious design shown above. The doublegrooved border with delicate corner figures provides exactly the proper balance to preserve the rugged, time-and-weather-defying character of the memorial. Certificate Gray granite triumphs again in this fine design.

A Fine Example of the Popular Tablet Type of Memorial Design

The HEBRON

THIS fine design is a glorious example of fine artistry in the tablet type of memorial, justifying conclusively the great popularity enjoyed by memorials of this type. The HEBRON personifies grace and dignity, strength and permanence.

Quiet strength is reflected in every line. Our artists and carvers have demonstrated in the HEBRON that highly-polished surfaces are not essential in the perfect memorial. Here, finely hammered surfaces have been combined with rough-hewn sides to present one of the finest and most striking memorials in our entire group.

The delicately-curved and shaped top is distinctive, this rare treatment being accomplished in a memorial of this price only because of the modern machinery employed in our finishing shops. The work of many craftsmen is here presented in finished perfection, yet the cost is amazingly low.

Curved top and front of main block are hammered. Floral carving decorates the front surface, providing a very attractive, delicate border for the name which is deeply carved in Roman incised letters.

Sides and back of main block are rough-hewn. Base has hammered top surface with natural rough-finished sides.

Without being out of proportion or weakened in any way, the HEBRON has a delicately-shaped contour that lends the distinction and attractiveness so much desired in a family or individual memorial.

Skillful Use of Simple Decorative Figures on Finely-Hammered Surface

The GUILD

THE GUILD design in Certificate Gray Granite expresses to the utmost the modern trend in memorial design. Here you find none of the bizarre, superfluous carving, the super-ornate stone design so common in memorials of two decades past.

Although of the tablet type, the GUILD design, through vertical lines, emphasizes height in the main block. The very attractive decorative figures on each side of the main block are sandblown and then hand tooled. The darker stone within the panels is steel finished—a fine treatment especially intended for granite-work.

Front surface of the main block is hammered, with sides, back and oval top in original rough stone. The base stone has hammered, bevel top with rough-hewn sides. This base stone is comparatively low, giving an extra-wide appearance to the memorial as a whole.

The one family name, in Roman incised lettering, deeply sunk and hand tooled, receives prominent display because of its outstanding position on the block, together with the skill with which our craftsmen have focused attention upon the name through the unusual design.

The GUILD is in every sense an up-to-date memorial. It follows the trend of modern design, yet has distinction which gives true individuality.

The COUNSELOR

THE COUNSELOR will stand apart among any group of memorials—a beautiful tribute to the departed whose cemetery plot it marks so distinctively. Here the student of memorial art will find an ideal treatment of rough granite, skillfully combined with the very minimum of hammered surface and other ornamentation.

Our craftsmen have here chosen to employ rough-hewn stone throughout, with only the large name panel and upper surface of base appearing in any other treatment. The bulk of this memorial is pleasing. Its form symbolizes clearly the undying character of the departed soul it immortalizes.

Sandblown ornamentation and inner border grace the harmoniously shaped panel. Roman incised lettering boldly identifies the memorial through the family name.

In our opinion, one must search far to find a memorial more adaptable to every condition. Whether used to mark a family plot or to identify the burial place of an individual, the COUNSELOR is always in good taste—yet very distinctive. Certificate Gray Granite carries out the theme as no other material could.

Remember, when we speak of Certificate Gray Granite, the material referred to is the highest grade granite coming from the famous quarries of New England—quarries which have been established for years.

A Superb Example of the Combined Use of Polished, Hammered and Natural Stone

The GREENLAND

THE leadership or excellence of Certificate Gray Granite as a memorial material is unquestioned. Its adaptability to various treatments—natural rough stone, light hammered or highly polished surfaces—has made it the most popular of all stones for this purpose.

The GREENLAND is a glorious example of the stone worker's art—a combination of the three stone treatments above revealing splendid harmony and balance. The photograph shows more clearly than words the beautiful contrasts, decorations and lettering.

The main block has a finely-curved serpentine top fashioned in rough-hewn stone. Sides and back of main block are in natural finish, while front face is very highly polished. The rectangular name panel has a hammered surface with double-grooved border. Roman incised lettering is large and deeply blown into the stone. Border decoration at the top has double-grooved border within hammered panels. Geometrical pattern in the center is very delicately sandblown and carved.

Base has hammered top with natural rock sides. Massive strength combined with perfect proportion gives the GREENLAND the necessary individuality to make it a worthy memorial. This fine monument is very suitable for reproduction in beautiful American Red Granite or regular Certificate Gray Granite, as listed below.

A Fine, New Treatment for a Popular Vertical Type of Memorial

The MEREDITH

IN order to be a fitting tribute to record its message for future generations, a memorial must be chosen with care and extreme discrimination, both as to material and design.

Certificate Gray Granite has proved conclusively its ability to withstand the ravages of time and storm, and to carry its messages on through the ages, retaining its original beauty unimpaired. As for design, this book exhibits the finest designs available. The MEREDITH, although not being altogether new in treatment, has distinguished beauty that might well honor the grave of the truly great.

Rarely are all the features of this fine memorial found in any other one design. The upright main block has highly-polished front surface with rough-hewn sides, back and serpentine top, lending exactly the proper contrast. The sandblown decoration and initial at the top of the stone are cleverly done—giving a true raised effect, well protected by the accompanying elevated surfaces. The name panel is steel finished with deeply-blown Roman incised lettering. The entire panel is enclosed in a double-grooved border.

Base has hammered top with rough-hewn sides. The added height of the base accentuates the natural height of the memorial.

The MEREDITH design can also be reproduced in beautiful American Red Granite, as priced below. You will be very pleased with the rich color contrasts, varying from the delicate pinks of hammered surfaces to the deeper red of the natural stone finish.

Glass-Like Polished Surfaces of Upper and Lower Stones Reflect Ever-Changing Beauty

The CALME

PROBABLY no two designs ever introduced by us have attracted the instantaneous success of the CALME design on this page and the REPOSE design illustrated opposite. For treatment either in Certificate Gray Granite or American Red Granite, these memorial designs typify the very latest in modern monument execution.

The CALME design is not elaborate in any sense of the word, yet it has a satisfying, finished appearance that stimulates immediate approval from every observer.

The most distinguishing feature of this memorial is the highly polished top surface of the base stone. This mirror-like surface reflects the image of the main block in a very pleasing manner. The rough sides of the base provide necessary contrasts.

The main block is comprised of glassy-polished front surface and rough-hewn back surface, blended skillfully with hammered and carved decorative features. The name appears on the face in a section of hammered stone just above the base. The small Latin Cross is handled attractively together with the accompanying ornamentation.

Serpentine top is finely hammered, while sides are rough-hewn, aside from the small margin as illustrated above, which is likewise cut smooth.

The REPOSE

OF practically the same shape and of very similar design and treatment, the REPOSE illustrated above is a popular companion for the CALME memorial on the opposite page. A glance at each will show the distinct similarity of the two memorials. Likewise, it is very suitable for reproduction in either Certificate Gray or American Red Granite.

The REPOSE design uses the family name in a slightly different manner—raising it to the top of the main block instead of keeping it just above the base stone. The name panel upon the glass-like polished face of the block is hammered, the name itself being in sand-blown Roman incised lettering, much the same as in the CALME.

At the bottom of the main block an attractive geometric design emphasizes width rather than height. These designs find a perfect mirror in the polished top of the base stone. This base block has rough-hewn sides which give added emphasis to the other polished surfaces. Both sides, back and top of main block are rough-hewn.

It will be noticed that these stones are amply large and of proper design to accommodate individual names as well as the family inscription. This will save the added expense of markers for individual graves. Order any inscription you desire. Our price includes number of letters and carving as shown in style illustrated. Additional letters, 45c each.

Certificate Gray Granite Is a Perfect Medium for This Graceful, Harmonious Design

The PILGRIM

A DESIGN like our PILGRIM memorial represents stability, strength and dignity—elements so well characterized by its reproduction in Certificate Gray Granite. Without encroaching on the elaborate, the PILGRIM has a distinction and charm that cannot be denied.

The combination of hammered and natural finished surfaces is not only pleasing to the eye, but presents a weather and timeproof memorial which never loses its attractive appearance.

Main block has hammered front surface, with rough-hewn sides, back and top. Family name is carved in large letters across the top of the main block. The two individual names, together with the dates, eliminate all need for individual head marker stones—a considerable saving, as you will agree.

The graceful, harmonious decorative figure at the bottom balances beautifully with the entire effect. This design is deeply sandblown and hand tooled, with several small areas steel finished. Although there is considerable lettering on the block, the effect is far from crowded or confusing—a tribute to the skill of our designers and craftsmen. Order any inscription you desire. Our price includes number of letters and carving as shown in style illustrated. Additional letters 45c each.

Double Name Memorials Save the Cost of Foot Stones or Markers

The GUARDIAN

HERE again is found an ideal treatment in hammered and natural finishes, much like the PILGRIM design opposite.

In the GUARDIAN memorial, the lettering and decoration have all been concentrated near the top of the main block. This arrangement is by no means crowded, due to the clever handling given the decorative figure which divides the two individual names. This delicate carving employs leaves and flowers as its chief motif and gives the memorial the touch of life so necessary in evading the drab and lack-lustre of many commonplace monuments. Back surface of main block is rough-hewn.

Base has hammered top with rough-hewn sides. This memorial is a perfect representative of the tablet type with subtle emphasis on width rather than height. The gently curving serpentine top on the main block has a finely hammered finish.

Perfect artistry, good taste and high quality are demonstrated in every surface and in every machined or carved design. Certificate Gray Granite reigns supreme—a true “blue blood” among fine memorial materials.

Two Certificate Gray Granite Designs ... of Outstanding Popularity

The IMPERIAL Certificate Gray Granite

THIS is a simple dignified memorial in excellent taste and is adapted either for a family monument or to mark a single grave. Although moderate in price, it is wrought from genuine Certificate Gray Granite, the finest stone available for memorial work, and will retain its beauty unchanged for centuries. The outstanding popularity of this fine memorial is traceable to the extraordinarily fine work obtainable at such a reasonable price.

The IMPERIAL is carved from Light Certificate Gray Granite. The face of the main block and the bevel on the base are hammered to a fine smooth but not polished finish. A neat conventional design deeply carved in the face of the main block near the top serves to set off the lettering and gives a pleasing touch to the simple outlines of the stone.

The back, top and ends of the main block and entire base, except its beveled top, are rock finished. The effect of rugged honest simplicity obtained in this design is very attractive. Order any inscription you desire. Our price includes carving and number of letters as shown in the style illustrated. If extra letters are needed for your inscription, each additional letter will cost 45c.

Vermont Marble Is of Crystalline Purity

The WAVERLY

SIMPLICITY has been the ideal of the artist in designing the "Waverly" memorial. The simple, incised line decoration at the top is lightened by conventional flower and leaf design in the center.

The main block is hammered, the entire surface being composed of fine parallel lines which subdue and soften the veining of the marble. If desired, however, we will supply the main block with polished surfaces at the same price. Bases are all selected marble in the dull sanded finish which is suitable for use with either the polished or dull finish in the main block. Be sure and specify which finish is desired. Order any inscription you wish. Our price includes number of letters and carving as shown, in the style as illustrated here. If extra letters are needed for your stone each additional letter will cost 18c. Can be furnished in either the White Clouded or Dark Vein Blue Vermont Marble. Be sure to specify which is desired.

THREE to six weeks are usually required to finish and letter a marble monument after the order is received. Time should also be allowed for moving the shipment by freight which will vary according to the distance you are from the shops. In the Spring season, owing to the heavy demand, it is always advisable to order as early as possible and allow plenty of time for making and shipping. WHILE in recent years the use of Granite as a material for memorials has increased in many localities, Vermont Marble is still a favorite because of its crystalline purity of texture and soft beauty of its markings. It is easier to work than granite, and, because of this, less expensive; so a larger and more imposing memorial in marble can be purchased for an equal sum of money. Having decided on a marble memorial, you should have no difficulty in selecting a suitable one from these pages which show a pleasing variety of styles, at prices to suit nearly every purse. Please notice our new policy on lettering—you will save considerable on every stone.

QUOTATIONS and VERSES... Suitable for Inscriptions

It is an old custom, and a beautiful one, to inscribe upon the memorial a verse or quotation in which the tender sentiments of sorrow or love are fittingly expressed.

If you have no verse or words of your own that you wish to use, you can, no doubt, find something in the selection below which will express your grief and hope in an appropriate and beautiful way.

If carved on marble, the regular verse letters are used. On granite we use a one-inch or smaller Sunk letter according to the space. Granite is much harder and more difficult to carve than marble, which makes the cost higher. If you prefer to use a verse or wording of your own, send us a copy of it and we will gladly tell you the cost of carving it. The prices quoted below are for the regular verse letters on marble only and are figured at a cost of 9c a letter. If carved on Certificate Gray granite the cost can be figured at 35c a letter and on American Red Granite the cost is 45c a letter.

DIRECTIONS FOR SETTING MONUMENTS

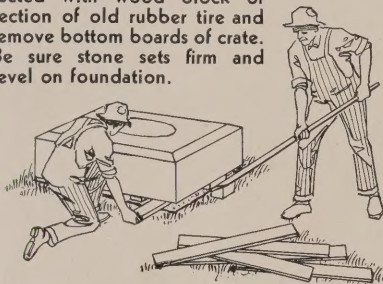

that are simple and easy to follow

Laying the Foundation

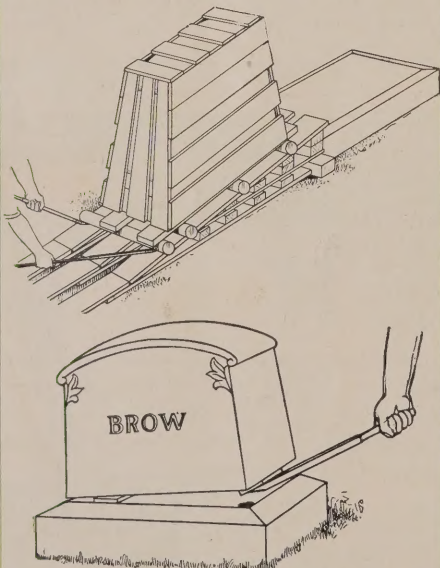

Never allow a crowbar or other metal tool to touch the stone. Protect by placing a wood block between the metal and the stone. Where rough planks rest on stone, place a piece of an old tire or a block of soft wood between them. Move base into place on wooden rollers. Leave crating on to protect it until in final position and then remove it very carefully.

Raise stone with bar protected with wood block or section of old rubber tire and remove bottom boards of crate. Be sure stone sets firm and level on foundation.

The illustration below demonstrates the correct method of raising upper section into position by making an incline of blocks and planks. Protect base with section of old rubber tire and roll into position on wood rollers. Then remove crate carefully.

Place wood block between stone and bar and be sure stone is in the exactly correct position and dowel pins, if any, are properly placed. Raise stone and remove bottom boards of crate and let down gently into position. Be sure that it stands perfectly level and square on base.

THE foundation should be finished and allowed to stand for a week or more before erecting the monument, to permit it to set thoroughly and prevent staining the base. The foundation may be of concrete, stone or brick. Concrete is best, especially for a heavy monument.

Some cemeteries have regulations governing the building of foundations or build them themselves for a stated price. If there are no fixed regulations and you wish to build the foundation yourself, proceed as follows: Dig a hole the width and length of the lower base which is given in the description and from three to five feet deep, according to the weight of the stone.

Concrete Foundation. Make a mixture of one part of cement to four parts of crushed stone or gravel and fill excavation. Finish up the top smooth and perfectly level about one inch below the surface of the ground. Bevel in the upper side about an inch all around so foundation will not show below base.

Stone Foundation. Put in a layer of flat stones or brick. Mix cement and sand in the proportions of one part of cement to two parts of sand and pour in until cracks are filled up level. Put in another layer of stone or brick, pouring in the cement and continue to lay up in courses of stone or brick and cement, until within one inch of surface of ground. Bevel sides in about one inch all around so foundation will not show, and be sure that the top is flat and perfectly level.

Setting the Monument

The methods used in setting marble and granite monuments differ in some respects. Follow the directions which apply to the kind of stone you have. Leave the crating on the stone until the grave is reached and stone up as near in position as possible. In removing crates be very careful that your tools do not strike and mar the stones. As the illustrations will show, removing the crate should be the last operation before setting the stone. In erecting a monument, always use a block of soft wood to protect the stone if there is any danger of metal coming in contact with it, as this may mar or chip it.

Granite Monuments

Move the base into position on the foundation on rollers, using wooden bars if possible. Remove the crate and then test with a level in all directions. If not level, raise where necessary and insert hardwood wedges. The space on the lower side must then be filled with slate or flat stones after the monument is set.

Place a small piece of the wedge lead which is shipped with the stone on each of the four corners of the flat top of base. Place the main block on the base by rolling it up an incline made of blocks and planks as shown in the illustration. Set it in position with wedge lead under each corner. This leaves a space of about one-eighth of an inch between the base and main block. Make sure that the stones are level in all directions and in perfect line from every side. If there is an upper stone, set it in place after first placing small sections of wedge lead on each corner of the main block just as you did on the base.

Now cut a strip of wedge lead of the right length and slip the narrow edge into the joint between the base and the main block. Drive it carefully and evenly into the joint, using a smooth square block of hard wood and a wood mallet. Do not use a steel hammer as it might strike and mar the stone. Drive the wedge lead tightly into the full length of the joints on all four sides of the main block and the top stone also if there is one. Trim the lead off with a knife or chisel and go over it again with a wood block and mallet, driving it in so as to seal all joints completely. This prevents water from entering and freezing, thus avoiding the possibility of the stone shifting or cracking. When completed, wash off finger marks and spots with water, using a brush if necessary.

All our monuments, whether Granite or Marble, are strongly boxed and crated. We guarantee safe delivery without mar or scratch of any kind.

Marble Monuments

Move crated base into position by means of wood bars and rollers. Carefully take off crate, being sure that no metal touches the marble, as it is easily chipped or marred.

Try the base with a level in different directions and if necessary raise one side slightly to level up. Do this by placing thin hard wood wedges under the lower side. After setting up is finished, any open spaces below base should be filled up with flat stones or slate and finished with the cement we ship with the stones.

After setting the base, mix some of the cement shipped with the stone to a thin paste and spread it evenly over the top where the main block is to rest. If the stone is a tall or narrow one, dowel holes are drilled in both base and main block, and metal dowel pins to fit are packed in one of the crates. Partly fill the dowel holes in both the base and main block with the cement and set the dowel pins into position so that they will project about halfway into each stone.

Raise the main block to position on rollers, using an incline made of blocks and planks for this purpose as shown in the illustration. Remove crate carefully and work into correct position with bars protected by soft wood blocks so that the dowel pins in base enter corresponding holes in main block which have already been partly filled with cement. Smaller stones can be easily lifted into position by one or more men. When the cement hardens around the dowels, it holds the blocks firmly together.

Be sure that main block is in perfect line in every direction. Wipe off any cement that squeezes out between the blocks before it has a chance to set or harden. Upper sections if necessary, are added in the same way.

See that the stone is perfectly clean. Rub off all surface cement and wash off dirt and finger marks with water, using a brush if necessary. Remember that marble being a comparatively soft stone, is easily chipped or marred and great care must be taken to protect the corners and edges from contact with steel tools. Use a block of soft wood or a section of an old tire between the tools and stones.

FREIGHT RATES ON MONUMENTS

MARBLE monuments are shipped from shops in Vermont. Certificate Gray Granite monuments are shipped from shops in Massachusetts. American Red Granite memorials are shipped from Central Illinois. Freight charges are paid by the purchaser but as the rates are comparatively low, the freight you pay will usually amount to very little compared with your saving in price by buying from us.

So that you may estimate very closely what the freight charges will amount to, we give below the freight rate per hundred pounds on granite and marble monuments from the points where the shops are located, to towns in each state. The freight rate to your town will be very nearly the same as to the town nearest you in this table. We give the average weight of each monument crated in the description so that you can easily figure very closely the freight charges you must pay.

If there is an agent at your station, do not send us the money for freight but pay it when the shipment arrives. If your station has no agent, write us for the price of the monument you select delivered at your town with freight charges paid.
